Governor Pardons J. F. Madden, Payroll Robber, and H. A. Stevens, Serving Time on Charge of Embezzlement

BOTH SENTENCED FROM HERE

Are Near Death from Tuberculosis, Is Report; Will Be Cared for by Relatives; Change of Climate May Benefit Stevens

Possibility of death in the Ohio penitentiary was removed for two Marion county prisoners yesterday when Governor A. Vic DeShay pardoned James F. Madden and Howard A. Stevens. Both are said to be near death from tuberculosis.

Madden was serving a 10 to 25-year term for complicity in the C. D. & M. payroll robbery nearly three years ago. Having entered the penitentiary on March 29, 1926, he had served two and a half years. Stevens, a Marion IMPERIALISTIC big business will sit quietly and watch Russian theorists fight each other—as when they threw Trotsky.

COOLIDGE warned Hoover against overwork, urging him to watch his health. The winter warns Mr. Hoover against fast eating.

As a skillful engineer he would not allow any subordinate to treat a machine as he, Mr. Hoover, treats his own body.

His mind is working constantly. He eats absent-mindedly, in a hurry, never resting concentrated mental work.

In short, he lives as the late E. H. Harriman used to live. And only years of active outdoor life have saved him. When Harriman went to see the German doctors, they said if he had eaten slowly, instead of eating his luncheon on his desk while he worked, and especially if he had taken light beer with his meals, to relax, he would live many years longer.

HERBERT HOOVER won't take Hightight beer. Perhaps the German doctors were wrong about that, anyhow. But he will live longer, if he can be persuaded to eat more slowly, and stop concentrated thinking at least during meals.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER JR., most generously has given $2,000,000 for projects' buildings in Paris, in the new "University City," built on the site of the old Paris wall.

In the days when Abelard lectured at the Paris University, eager students climbed at night to tell steeples and there, away from street shadows, read their books by moonlight.

They heard lectures before daybreak, in cold, stone rooms, their half-frozen fingers writing painfully.

Education is made easier.

MISS KATHERINE LOCKE of Youngstown, O., traveled miles and miles over the sands of Sahara thinking her son would bring back her voice that was lost. IT DID.

She visited the Goul of Marakesh, who knew who he is, in a dwelling 3,000 years old in the Atlas Mountains. The goul probably knows as little about us as we know about him.

MORE interesting to many Americans, Miss Locke saw at Timbuktu, pens where American slaves once bought slaves from native chiefs.

Young men, playing jazz music in night clubs now, would be amazed to see those pens where their ancestors once stopped on the way to America. They would blow the slave traders that bought the ancestors here. We never knew what is for our good.

A Pontiac, General Motors authorizes meet to discuss development of transportation by trucks, truck production and sale.

DEVELOPMENT of motor trucks means economy and labor-saving for farmers.

It means greater efficiency for every branch of industry, and will free horses from tasks at only for machines.

MR. SARCOVITCH of the Macedonian revolutionary committee, commits murder, wholesale and ratable. Macedonians dislike Serbians. Sarcovitch looted ten Serbians, including four gendarmes, in a hut, and burned them all alive.

The Serbian government offers a reward of 1,000,000 dinars for the Macedonian bandit.

NOTHING succeeds like success, with horses or men. Peletier won the Derby, the betting 30 to 1 against him. Before the race you could have bought the horse, probably, for $20,000. Now his owner refuses $200,000 offered by an American.

MEXICO BEGINS ITS PERIOD OF MOURNING

Extraordinary Session of Congress Not To Meet Until July 30

Mexico City, July 20 — While the body of the late President-Elect General Alvaro Obregon rapidly neared its last resting place in the general's home State of Sonora, all Mexico today began a nine-day period of mourning to honor the memory of the departed leader.

The government has lifted the veil of censorship imposed a few hours after General Obregon was assassinated. The extraordinary session of congress, set originally for today, has been postponed until July 30.

The purpose of this session had originally been to take up various reform laws backed by the Obregonists, but it is now believed that at the session the Obregonists will attempt to push through legislation which will permit President Calles to remain in office for two years more.

Gen. Antonio Rios Zertuche, chief of Mexico City police, issued a statement last night in which he charged Catholic clergy with "responsibility for the crime."

A wide search is still being made for further suspects. There have been many arrests. Twenty of those arrested were men, it is reported.

The assassin, Jose De Leon, will be given a regular trial by the tribunals, the police chief said. He did not indicate just how soon the trial would be completed, nor when the execution, which is certain to follow, would take place.

25 Acres Added

The old cemetery is made up of 70 acres of land, and the newly acquired portion, east of the Harding Memorial, adds 35 acres. Drives are being cut, ground leveled, and within another year, the front part of the new addition will probably be open for use.

A nursery has been started on the east line of the new addition and will furnish most of the trees and shrubs used in landscaping that section.

In proportion to the acreage, there are more varieties and greater numbers of trees and shrubs in Marion cemetery than in any other burial ground in the country. The effect which has been gained with the shading of the green of the trees and shrubs in the main entrance gate is worthy of the work of a great landscape artist.

To the left at the entrance is a flower bed which resembles an old mosaic of the cross and the crown. This beautiful piece of horticulture was planned this year by a Cincinnati man.

Over 400 persons from this city and the surrounding country were buried in the cemetery during the winter of the great influenza epidemic.

and the work was taken over by Nathan P. Sloan, father of E. A. Sloan, who tended it until 1894.

In that year E. A. Sloan took over the work until 1907 when he came to Marion. Woodlawn cemetery was turned over to his brother, Frederick Sloan, who was there until 1914, when he became superintendent of the Todil Homes end cemetery of Youngstown.

Mr. Sloan, superintendent of Marion cemetery, has been here for 21 years, and in that time has improved 25 acres of the old land and has platted and surveyed all of the new grounds. In the summer he is assisted by 15 men, and in the winter by seven. Since April the entire grounds of the cemetery have been trimmed once a week.

Mr. Sloan comes of a distinguished line of cemetery superintendents. His grandfather, Abraham Collier, was superintendent of Woodlawn cemetery at Ironston from 1850 to 1886, when he died viewed from the streets. The front lawn of the cemetery has been preserved for park purposes only, and no burials are made there.

Archbishop James B. Purcell purchased 2.7 acres of land from the Marion Cemetery association and the St. Mary's Catholic cemetery was started. The property was transferred again, and in September, 1881, Joseph Johnson sold the Catholic cemetery officials 21.32 acres of land, which is now known as St. Mary's Catholic cemetery.

In 1901 there were only 11 burials made in St. Mary's cemetery, but the number had grown in 1922 to 40. David Martin is sexton of the St. Mary's burial ground.

ALL BRAKES NOT SAME

Unfortunately, to be able to stop quickly in traffic is not positive safety. It sometimes is true that too quick a stop actually results in a mishap. Always, in the congested area, the brakes on the car behind should be borne in mind to the advantage of everyone concerned. Its deceleration may not be of the same high quality as one's own. Therefore, it is an excellent idea to give and to stop as quickly as possible when vehicles are backed.

TUNNEY FACES TASK OF TRAVELING FROM CAMP TO NEW YORK

Rickard Would Enjoin Plan of Using Airplane for Trip

By DAVID J. WALSH
New York July 20—It strikes me that one of the several mistakes of George Tunney in connection with this fight is the fact that he has not yet secured the services of a trainer. He should have selected Speculator, N. Y., as a training camp. It is said to have gone to Coney Island, and it is well in the mirror maze, and makes a real contest out of his chances to reach New York in time.

Tunney frankly was in a jam this morning, to be considered ways and means of getting him from an inaccessible spot like Speculator, 35 miles from the nearest railroad station, without being at the edge of his form, en route to the edge of his form, en route to the edge of his form.

He had intended to fly to New York in view of the fact that Rickard says he would not land even if he did. Rickard, however, goes to court for an injunction against this undertaking. Brother Tunney probably doesn't realize it, but George is giving him a favor. An airplane flight of 205 miles is not going to establish a boxer's tranquility, especially of a contest.

He came down from Stroudsburg to Philadelphia in a comparatively short distance after the first Dempsey fight, arrived with an upset stomach, according to his own account of the incident. Rickard, of course, isn't worried about a good man's stomach upon arrival. What worries him is the arrival of Tunney.

The best plan to follow is one that Tunney probably will not consider for a moment. This would call for him to make his way Monday, in order to be in Philadelphia for the New York fight.

He is about 20 degrees higher in temperature. He told Artie McGovern and Son's experience in arriving in the city Saturday night before the George fight, that he is fixing to place himself in the same position this time.

His present dilemma is typical of the lack of forethought shown in Tunney's preparation for this fight. His other interests are proved, in the light of subsequent developments, to be unimportant. Most men seem so now in comparison with the notion that a man ought to be 200 miles away from where he wants to be at a given time.

MENKE SAYS TOM HEENEY WILL BE NEXT CHAMPION

Tunney Slowing Up Since First Fight with Dempsey

By FRANK G. MENKE
Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of two articles by Frank G. Menke on the Tunney-Heaney battle.

THIS column inclines to the belief that Tom Heaney will be the next heavyweight champion of the world. The guess is contrary to the general notion in this widely inhabited world. Far here, there and almost everywhere else the boys and girls think that Heaney merely is a practice session for Tunney; that Tunney will spear him dizzy with his left hand, knock him willy-nilly with his right, feint him into forget-me-nots, run him half-dead, tie him into pretzel formations, render him cross-eyed and anything else you might want for $40.

The general notion department may be quite right: Tunney may be the mighty champion, the invincible youth that so many believe. But this column cannot bow to any such word as "invincible" when it is applied to Tunney.

Tunney reached his peak in the 1926 fight.

HE wasn't so good in 1927—not by a half dozen hops, skips and jumps. His timing of punches in Chicago was bad, as was evidenced by the fact that Dempsey, who never had any real defense, was able to dodge about 30 of Tunney's right hand swings and kept out of the way of Tunney's left hand pokes through most of the early rounds.

Tunney was slower in Chicago than ever before.

He was not so "hot" in avoiding drives for his whisker region, nor for his body. Dempsey, a year older than he was in Philadelphia, hit Tunney about 10 times as often in Chicago as he did in their first outing.

If Tunney slowed between 1926 and 1927, it naturally follows that with an added year of idleness, he has slowed considerably more between 1927 and 1928.

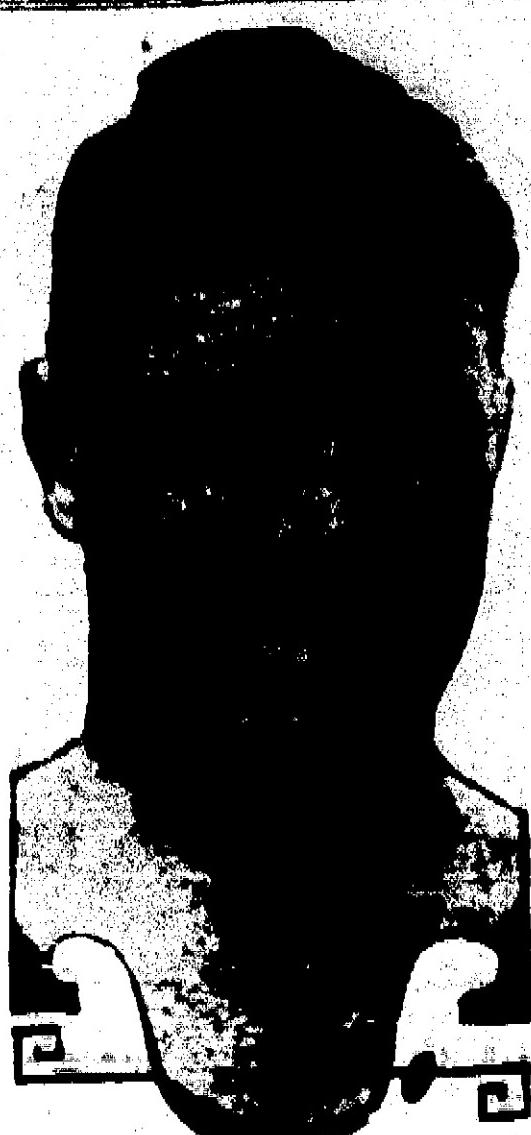

FROM September of last year until he went into training for Heaney, the champion didn't pay much attention to his fist-knitting. He was careful about his diet, he did some exercising each day, but, in the main, he made no strenuous effort to keep his muscles

PAID YOUR TAXES?

That's fine. Now you have a place to live another year. Now you should keep that tax value up, and have a better place to live by painting that good home of yours.

It will not cost you as much as your taxes. Get your tax bills for the last year and see. Just multiply the total by 5, that's the number of years a good paint job will last.

tuned, or his eyes in alert fighting condition. He grew a bit fat, at the out-of-training poundage of 203 demonstrated.

Beyond all that, the will-to-win does not surge so relentlessly through Tunney as it did in former years. Like all challengers, he was wildly anxious to meet Dempsey and beat him. He was a fighting man that night in Philadelphia, tuned to concert pitch, with every muscle and fibre in his being, with body, mind and soul welded together in the effort for triumph.

He won—because he had the mighty urge and the will-to-win.

In Chicago he was fighting to prove his right to be called great among the greatest; he fought to win—to "kill" if a "kill" could be made—just to silence the slurs about his first victory over Dempsey; he fought to demonstrate that he was Dempsey's master. He had within him as still a greater force to aid him, a dislike for Dempsey—a feeling that dominates in what is known as "grudge fights."

Now it is different. Having gained the championship in one fight, having proved his mastery

ROCKNE SAILS

First Sports Tour of Olympics, Europe
A "Sellout"

New York, July 20—Knute H. Rockne, famous football coach of Notre Dame university, sails for Europe tonight on the Cunard steamer Carmania, leading a party of more than 200 sports enthusiasts on the Olympic and European tour.

His first venture in the tourist field is a "sellout" for all his space was disposed of nearly three weeks ago. In Rockne's party are such sport notables as Glenn "Pop" Warner, dean of American football coaches, and Miss Aileen Riggan, Olympic diving champion, who is hostess for the party.

Rockne has been engaged by the Cunard company to personally conduct a tour of Ireland next summer. He will confer with President Cowgrave, of the Irish Free State, regarding the 1929 tour.

THAT ALL?

Lawyers Believe Tunney Will Win From Heaney

Speculator, N. Y., July 20—"He can't look, he can't look, he can't punch. All he can do is stay in there and take it, but I must admit he can do that until the cows come home."

Thus does Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion of the world, describe Tom Heaney, challenger for the heavyweight crown. He is here to watch Tunney spar today.

While Tom doesn't believe that Gene can knock out the rough and ready villain blacksmith, he does think that there is a strong probability of the hour being stopped to save Heaney from punishment.

CONDITION ALARMING
Detroit, July 20—George Bouders, race driver, injured here Sunday lapsed into a semi-conscious state early today. Bouders was unconscious for four days following the accident but remained conscious yesterday. His condition is still alarming.

All Outdoors AND Where To Go

Inactivity Will Be Handicap to Present Title Holder

BY JAMES W. STEUBER

You don't have to go as far away to get good fishing, and beautiful scenery, with good roads and camping sites, and good accommodations for the tourist who wants a short trip, not too far away from Ohio. Here are some good places:

Harrison County, Kentucky: P. O. Baxter. On Cumberland river and not far from Cumberland Falls. Accommodations at farm houses. L. and N. G. Baxter or drive there from Cincinnati.

Taylor County, Kentucky: Campbellsville, L. and N. Railroad. Information from L. and N. ticket agent at Campbellsville. Many lakes and good fishing, wonderful scenery.

Boone County, Kentucky: Gunpowder Creek Highway from Cincinnati to Erlanger. Hotels at Erlanger.

Pendleton and Harrison counties, Kentucky: Motor Court Cincinnati to Independence, via Madison Pike from Covington, and on to Falmouth. Bass, perch, and pan fish. Beautiful scenery. Wading and shore fishing in streams. Hotels at above named towns.

WHERE was I got some grouse shootin'? This question is often asked by Ohio hunters. One of the best places close to Ohio for ruffed grouse, woodcock, and small game is at Conneaut Lake, Pennsylvania. There is also good bass, perch and bluegill fishing there.

Conneaut Lake is in the western part of the state, Crawford county, and is reached by good roads through Youngstown, or via Pennsylvania railway via Louisville or Braddock and L. E. direct. Information as to guides can be obtained from Wild Life Inn, or Hotel Iroquois, Conneaut Lake.

For a short fall fishing trip combined with duck hunting, is Lake of the Woods, 170 miles north of Toronto, Ontario, in the Parry Sound territory. It is reached via Canadian National railway from Detroit. The stoppage place is Buck Falls. Deer, moose, bear, grouse and small game is plentiful. Twenty lakes are close by, and also good streams. Write to E. J. Schuler, Box 51, Magnetawan, Ontario, for information.

OUT of the continue of Speculator, where Tunney is staying, his training staff comes stories that he is perfecting knock-out punches—a whipping right cross designed to knock Heaney loose from his intellect. If that's all true—if Tunney really is concentrating upon the idea of knocking out Heaney—it enhances Heaney's opportunity for victory, only so much more.

For it is extremely doubtful if Tunney can upset Heaney no matter what he hits him with. By getting his mind and his muscles all tuned up for a right hand shot at Heaney's chin, Tunney is very likely to park his most effective weapon—a left jab. If Tunney starts off with a right cross and keeps peeling away with it, it won't be long before he realizes the great error of his ways.

If Tunney attempts to use his left hand merely as an alternate weapon instead of his main defense, then whatever chance he has to settle through to victory will go our like a litigated match in a hurricane.

Rockne has been engaged by the Cunard company to personally conduct a tour of Ireland next summer. He will confer with President Cowgrave, of the Irish Free State, regarding the 1929 tour.

Estate Tied Up Two Rich Girls Live in Old Barge

NEW YORK. July 29.—Hitting on the rapids of a half submerged barge in Sherman's Creek, near the foot of Drexman St., Miss Isobel Stone, daughter of the late millionaire governor of Pennsylvania, William A. Stone, today told of the struggles she and her sister Margaret are making to achieve their ambitions.

"I suppose our rich relations will be shocked stiff," she said, "but we should worry. We're not asking them for anything."

Miss Stone is a singer by profession, her sister a sculptor. She explained their plight by saying that the family estate was tied up in litigation and that pending solution of the case they were practically penniless.

So they live on the old, broken-down barge, which is rent free, and now ashore in a leaky boat.

But it's better living like a hermit," Isobel said, "than being in society." Margaret shrinks from this publicity, but if it will do us any good, I'm for it."

And it appears that it may do some good, for today several celebrities of the theatrical profession were hopeful of getting Isobel an engagement.

Crippled Pilot Is Forced Down Twice

West Virginia's Legless and One-Armed Flier Miraculously Escapes

Pittsburgh, N. J., July 20—Morris H. "Dagger" Daugherty, legless and one-armed airplane pilot flying from his home in New Martinsville, W. Va., to Roosevelt Field, N. Y., was resting here today after getting lost several times and being forced down in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and on Long Island. Miraculously he escaped injury.

Rome in another plane. He is county assessor of Weisler county, West Virginia, and is being backed in his flight by friends in that state. He lost both legs and right arm in a railroad accident. When he arrived here he had only 81.

While on his flight to Roosevelt field Daugherty became lost in the fog and being nearly out of gas landed on a public golf course at Newark, N. J. He struck two trees in landing, and golf players scattered.

Fortunately one of the golf players was Capt. Dennis Cooke of Australia, who broke the world's record for a flight in a light airplane when last year he flew 7,000 miles from Croydon Aerodrome, England, to Calcutta, in seven stages. Cooke repaired the motor of Daugherty's plane and the crippled aviator started for Roosevelt Field.

Daugherty was forced down again on Long Island, however. Somehow he got over New Jersey again, and finally landed at the Passaic airport.

The average man is better at confessing the mistakes of other people than he is at acknowledging his own.

NEWS OF MOVIES IN CINEMA CAPITAL

of Sudan in Picture

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Star Staff Correspondent
LOS ANGELES, July 19—"Grass,"

and "Chang" will always stand out

as two of the best motion

pictures ever produced.

Neither one

goes even a story more than a december of life in the wilds.

"Grass" dealt with the sufferings of peasant people when the crops failed,

and was well done than it left us

in a state of horror. "Chang" was beset with difficulties also, not quite as heart-rending as those in "Grass," but sufficiently expressive to make it a great picture.

Merian Cooper and Ernest Schock took the two men who went into the wilds and brought back some remarkable films, have produced a third far from the haunts of men. For the past year and a half they have been in the Sudan with their cameras, filming wild animals and cannibals.

When Jean Acker was in Paris last week the two adventurers and prevailed upon them to bring their precious film to Hollywood. They are getting here today or tomorrow and the executives of Paramount will be invited to look at their latest.

The picture will not be titled until it is shown here.

WILLIAM COLLIER JR.—or Buster, as we like to call him—has found none of the disadvantages in free-lancing. The disadvantages are not knowing from day to day what one is to do next. That, I should say, would be considerable worry when there is rent to pay.

Buster is signed up for eight pictures in advance. That ought to pretty well take care of the next year. He will make three talkies for Warners and six for Tiffany-Stahl. He is one of the lucky ones whose voice registers perfectly in Vitaphone. Warners discovered this when they made "The Lion and the Mouse."

ROBERT FLAHERTY, another adventure with camera and gun who finds life when he sees it, is about to appear in Hollywood again. Mr. Flaherty brings back with him a story of the Hopi Indians, their habits, their customs and their romances.

He has been living among this tribe for some months and has, I hear, some interesting stuff. It should be interesting if we take "Nanook" as an example. "Nanook" was also one of the pictures that will go down in film history.

WHEN I heard that Elmer Clifton was directing "The Devil's Apple Tree," I almost had palpitation of the heart. I thought it was the John Colton play. Then I came to my senses and realized the Colton play in which Ruth Chatterton appeared is "The Devil's Plum Tree."

Washington, July 20.—The Republican campaign budget may be fixed when National Chairman Hubert Work and National Treasurer J. R. Nutt complete a study of departmental estimates today.

One thing was settled as a result of the preliminary discussions of the financial aspect of the campaign. There will be no limit to individual contributions.

In taking this attitude, Nutt declared there was no reason to suspect a donor simply because he was wealthy enough to give heavily to the campaign.

He also emphasized the tremendous amount of money necessary to properly organize an election effort in a large and wealthy country.

Salvation Army Tag Day, Set For Saturday, Planned For Children's Camp Fund

Outing To Be Provided at Greenwood Lake, Delaware, for 20 Marion Youngsters During Period from Aug. 1 to 14; Camp Program Announced

Children of the Salvation Army corps and Sunday school will be entirely in charge of the tag day sales sponsored by members of the Salvation Army, Saturday in the business section of the city. Proceeds of the day will be used to finance the outing of children from the Army Sunday school at Greenwood lake, Delaware, the Salvation Army camp. The sales will start at 9 o'clock.

Plans for the outing were completed by Captain Percy Holden, of this city, who has visited the camp this week, and the Marion children will be at camp Aug. 1 to 14, inclusive. Captain Holden and Mrs. Holden, who also is a captain in the corps, will be in attendance at the camp during the period assigned to the Marion children, who will number about 20. Residents of Marion and vicinity interested in the camp are invited to visit at any time and attend the meetings which will be in progress, Captain Holden assured.

Variety Program

Adds from the regular camp activities, which include boating, games, contests and other outdoor recreations, two special quarters will contribute to the song facilities throughout the camp period.

The period for the Marion children will conclude with the haldehah wedding of Lieutenant Clarabel Kelly and Captain Robert Atkinson, of this city, which will be administered by Colonel Walter Jenkins, of New York City, national secretary, in the evening.

In conclusion with the regular services, which will be held each night during the camp period, there will be special services at 11 o'clock each Sunday morning and at 3 and 7:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon and night. The week-night services begin at 7:45 o'clock. Any one wishing to make special contributions to the camp may do so by calling Captain Holden at headquarters.

Attraction Site

The camp, which has been in the possession of the Salvation Army for the last three years, is one of the most attractive camping sites in this part of the state. It is sponsored by

THIRD ESCAPE MADE

Searches From Sing Sing Prison Come Vicious for Man

Ossining, N. Y., July 20—Guards from Sing Sing prison and police of nearby towns combed this vicinity today for another escaped convict, the third to vanish in less than a week. The latest prisoner reported A. W. O. M. is Harold Phillips, 30, a New Yorker, who started a 15 to 20-year sentence for manslaughter last June 15. It is believed he is hiding somewhere in the prison grounds and will soon be located. He vanished last night during the execution of Joseph Lorkowits, 30, for the murder of Benjamin Goldstein, who was drowned in an $80,000 life insurance plot.

WHO'S YOUR GROCER?

Not a personal question, but one which you should give deep study. Are you unthoroughly trading at foreign controlled concerns, who send your money out of town the same day you spend it, or are you patronizing home industries, whose moneys go into the county and city treasuries, schools, churches and public institutions, pave streets, contribute to our Community Chest without getting "authorization" from out-of-town millionaires, who sometimes do and sometimes don't? Are you with the great mass of people, who "Buy in Marion" and who are always willing to help boost our city, that will make it a better and more pleasant place to live? If so, remember this cannot be done by having your money sent out of town. Help Marion grow by trading at a Serv-U-Wel Market and keep the money at home.

PRISONER KILLS TWO GUARDS; TAKES LIFE

Investigation Made To Learn Where He Obtained Weapons; Jail Break Attempted

New York, July 20.—A searching is under way to determine where John F. McCabe, a prisoner in the Bronx county jail, obtained the two revolvers with which he killed two guards in a jail break attempt last night. McCabe, who was faced with almost certain life imprisonment as a fourth offender under the Barnes law, shot and killed two wardens when other keepers blocked his exit.

To date two circuses have visited Marion this summer. Another, Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch Wild West, is due in late August. The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, which repeated in the spring after a late visit here last summer, did good business and presented a good show. The John Robinson circus here Saturday after a season's absence, did not do good business and also failed to give the class of show presented here two years ago.

While the circus men are "ticked pink" to get rid of the drudgery of a parade, one is inclined to believe that the parade is great ballyhoo stuff. And, this writer personally believes that the shows presented "more front" when they have parades.

Among the better circuses giving parades are the Miller Brothers show and Sparks' Circus. Marionites will recall that three years ago the 101 Ranch show was here and at that time the famous old pioneer, Ezra Meeker, was with the outfit. At that time Meeker rode atop the stage coach in the parade. With its many cowboys, cowgirls, Indians and other riders the 101 Ranch is able to give a pretty good parade.

That's something more for the kids to think about—a circus with a parade and during vacation.

A PICTURE highly valued by those who know its history, hangs in the office of Postmaster French Crow. It is a photograph of President Warren G. Harding.

In 1922, when state postal conventions were being held as a medium taken by post offices to reorganize the service after the World war, Marion was chosen as the meeting place for the Ohio convention. Every branch of the postal service was represented in these gatherings, and more than 3,000 attended the meeting here.

Several days before the convention a picture of the president arrived at the office from a mountain state of the west, where the last state convention had been held. With it came a letter requesting Postmaster Crow to display it in the hall where the convention was to be held, and afterwards to send it to Washington, D. C. These were official orders and possibly should have been heeded.

But after the convention the picture was taken to the postoffice, and whether through an oversight or with intent, was hung in the postmaster's office.

Shortly after, President Harding died, and this picture, which has traveled to 25 state conventions, is still in the local postoffice.

Disappointment Over Small Decrease in Brokers' Loans Is Shown

Five Per Cent Figure for Call Money Helps To Restore Confidence

BY W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor

New York, July 20.—After early selling had caused prices to weaken a fraction to almost three points, the stock market improved and many of the losses were changed into gains. Early this afternoon the I.N.S., as a whole, was irregular but quite a few of the market leaders had recovered to the point where they were fractionally higher. At the same time a number of stocks had not recovered losses sustained during the forenoon.

Selling at the outset was caused by the development in speculative quarters over the small decrease in brokers' loans. Figures given out late yesterday had shown a reduction of only $2,244,000 in brokers' loans during the week ended July 18 and Wall Street had been anticipating a decrease in excess of $10,000,000.

The procession of prices that followed by early selling did not last, however. A renewal rate of five per cent, or call money helped to restore confidence. Radio recovered from its early drop of 2½ points to 107½ and gained another noon had come back to 108½, only a fractional decline from yesterday's close. Wright Aeronautical resumed its early trend and transformed a 1½ point loss into a 2½ point gain, rising to 140. Curtis Aero also rallied to a less extent.

FAVORS MOTOR TRUCKS

More trucks and tractors are displacing the much two-wheeled bullock carts which have been an essential equipment at the ranches of the Argentine Pampas; agriculture became an organized industry. In the provinces of Santa Fe and Cordoba, the governments are using motor trucks with trailers to transport grain to railway stations. This work formerly was done by two-wheeled carts to which four to a dozen yoke of oxen were harnessed to pull a comparatively light load of grain to market.

WEATHER CAUSES DROP IN BANK CLEARINGS

Bank clearings here continue to show a decline. Clearings for yesterday, according to figures given out at the Marion County Bank today, fell below the $100,000 mark for the first time in two weeks when $92,244.81 was reported, compared to $137,771.11 on the corresponding day last week. A natural decline in buying which usually accompanies the warmer months is given by bankers as the reason for the falling off in totals.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

A general downward trend in vegetables, with the exception of tomatoes, was shown in prices quoted by dealers here today. An advance of 10 cents a pound in tomatoes was reported by dealers this morning. Good quality stock was selling at 20 and 25 cents a pound. A shortage of the better quality stock is given as the reason for the increase. Cucumbers are being offered at five and ten cents each and two for 15 cents. Yellow wax beans were being quoted at five cents under the price of yesterday. Dealers were taking 10 cents a pound or two pounds for 15 cents. Green beans and peas were also being quoted at 10 cents or two pounds for 15 cents. New beets were selling at two bunches for 15 cents and new carrots at the same price. Celery was being quoted at 10 cents a pound under the price of yesterday. Celery prices also showed some change today. Black raspberries were being offered at 80¢ a crate of 24 quarts, an advance of 75 cents a crate over the price of earlier in the week, while gooseberries were selling at 15 cents under the price of yesterday. Honeydew melons were also cheaper. Dealers were asking from 35 to 45 cents for melons which formerly sold at 45 and 50 cents. Georgia peaches were plentiful today and dealers were offering peaches for canning at 82¢ to $2.50 a bushel.

Watermelons are plentiful, although the price shows no change from earlier in the week. Georgia melons are supplying the demand and were being offered today at from 65 to 80 cents. California Bartlett pears have joined the other California fruits on the markets. Dealers were asking 15 cents a pound for pears today.

Prices on various products are as follows:

New Potatoes, 20 to 30¢ pk.

New Cabbage, 5¢.

Egg Plant, 20¢ & 25¢.

Cucumbers, 5, 10 and 2 for 15¢.

Wax Beans, 10¢ lb., 2 for 15¢.

Hoover, Republican Nominee, Is "Back Home" In California

ALL RECEPTIONS ARE ABANDONED

Funeral Services for Father-in-Law Scheduled This Afternoon

BECOMING "CANDIDATE"

Nominees Relaxes and Finds Himself More at Ease with Crowd

Aboard Hoover Train, Sacramento, Calif., July 20—Herbert Hoover, the first Californian ever nominated for the presidency, returned to his home state today on a mission of sorrow and with "welcome home" festivities postponed until after the funeral of his father-in-law, Charles D. Henry.

The Henry obsequies were to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel of the Leland Stanford university, which both Mr. and Mrs. Hoover attended years ago.

The Hoover train swerved down out of the Sierra Nevada early this morning past the famous California orchard country, was running far ahead of its original schedule in order to get the Republican nominee and his wife to their Palo Alto home in time to attend the funeral.

Abandon All Receptions

All receptions were ordered abandoned including a great welcome home celebration in San Francisco. His train was routed from Oakland via the Bumbaron bridge direct to Palo Alto where it was due at 9:45 o'clock this morning thus avoiding a long boat ride across San Francisco bay and a stop in that city.

Despite the cloud cast upon his homecoming by the death of his father-in-law, Hoover was elated at returning to his home state. He crossed the California state line shortly before midnight at Colvalda and he immediately expressed his gratitude at being "home." He had sat up in his private car for the event. "Every Californian crowns the state line with gratitude that God made it his home state," said Hoover. "I return this time with a deep sense of responsibility that I may add to her distinction in that task for which she has presented me to the nation."

"I look forward to being able soon to express my thanks for this confidence."

Mrs. Hoover in Reclusion

Mrs. Hoover remained in strict seclusion aboard the train. Her sorrow at the loss of her father was increased by the fact that she was prevented from being with him in his last days. She will continue in mourning at the Hoover home probably until her distinguished husband is notified formally, on Aug. 11, that he has been nominated for president by the Republican party.

Hoover came back to his home state for the first time since he was nominated and for the first time in a year, convinced that he will win the vast stretch of states across the northern tier of country from Wisconsin and Illinois to the Pacific coast. As his train rolled over the Southern Pacific lines from Oregon, Utah, he was told he would carry two so-called "doubtful" states, Montana and Nevada, thus making a clean sweep of the northwestern country.

One thing this transcontinental trip has done for Hoover, aside from giving him the opportunity to meet sectional leaders and study sectional problems, was to make a "candidate" out of him.

Vista Newspapers

In Chicago he posed for a photograph with a railroad engineer; in Iowa he voluntarily began shaking hands with rear platform crowds; in Nebraska he addressed a crowd as "my fellow citizens"; in Wyoming he kissed a baby and in Nevada he debated economic conditions with a heckler. On the last two days of the trip, the nominee voluntarily visited with the newspapermen men on his train. On the first day he began to relax; on the second he entertained them for an hour with stories of his youth, touching on his college days, sailing trips, youthful jobs and mining experiences. He demonstrated to the newspapermen that he can be an active campaigner between now and next November.

Hoover will remain in Palo Alto, until Aug. 15 or 16, except for a possible fishing trip, and then leave for a two days visit to Los Angeles according to his present plans before returning east. On his way back, he will stop off in Iowa for three days in Cedar Rapids and West Branch. He expects to reach Washington about Aug. 25 and remain there throughout the campaign.

To Ireland Service That Satisfies

Among the many testimonials we have recently received from passengers who have patronized our Irish Service, is the following from Mr. Matthew Huskins, 1334 Third Ave., New York City, well-known in Irish circles in America, who sailed on the S. S. Cleveland from New York June 18th, 1928; Queenstown, Ireland, June 27, 1928; Hamburg-American Line, New York.

Dear Sirs: Having travelled many times to and from New York to Ireland, both First and Second Class on other Liners, I was advised by many of my friends to travel Third Class on one of your ships.

I shall tell all my friends both in Ireland and the States to travel on your ships. I have travelled on the rest, so I shall advise my friends to travel on the best.

I shall always do my utmost to tell my people about your wonderful ships.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) Matthew Huskins.

OBITUARY

Krause—Anna Mary, was born May 14, 1873, in Marion, O., and was next to the youngest of seven children born to the union of Peter E. and Martha A. McClain. She departed this life in the same city in which she was born at the age of 55 years, one month, 15 days.

On the sixth day of September, 1893, she was united in marriage to Jacob F. Krause at the United Brethren parsonage, Rev. M. F. Scoulen, officiating. To this union was born two daughters, Leonie and Helen.

In the past five days she was suffering from stomach trouble, taking violently ill while with her daughter, Helen. Retiring early, unsuspecting, God saw fit to bring about the end, beautiful as sleep, may come everlasting.

A wife first—then mother second to none—she devoted an unselfish life to her husband and children, always thinking of their happiness. So passed on a soul of rare beauty. As mother, sister, or friend, she was a mind unequalled for beautiful thoughts until the end.

The leaves to mourn her sudden and early departure beside a devoted husband and two daughters, two grandsons, Frederick Bumgarner and Luther Glenn Wrenn, one sister Adeline McClain, this city, two brothers, F. Marion McClain, Cleveland, O.; Edwin F. McClain, Portland, Ore., also a host of relatives and friends.

The last rites beautiful in their simplicity were held at her home, 500 S. Prospect st., Sunday afternoon, July 1, 1928, Rev. W. H. Howard, officiating. Interment was made in the Marion Mausoleum.

Gone but not forgotten: living within the hearts of all who knew and loved her for ever and ever.

GUARD CALLED AFTER
OUTBREAK AT MINE

Belmont County Authorities Say They Are Unable To Control Situation

Bridgeport, July 29—Ohio National

County today after six weeks in which their services had not been required here.

Following a serious outbreak at the

cials proved unable to handle the situation.

The guardsmen today are in complete charge of the mine and its surrounding territory.

Tuesday three men from Pennsylvania,
now working in the Ohio coal fields, were seriously injured and another man was badly beaten in a "mob" outbreak.

Concert Company Booked For Marion Chautauqua

The G. Magnus Shultz company, pictured above, will present two programs as one of the features of the Marion County chautauqua, Monday, July 24. A concert program will be given at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and a prelude will be offered to a lecture by Judge Fred G. Hale, at 8 o'clock Monday night.

The group, headed by G. Magnus Shultz, is reputed to be one of the best of chautauqua singing companies in the field today. The company will present solo and ensemble numbers.

Complaints Against Dirty Streets Bring Response From Department Head

Insufficient Funds and Lack of Co-operation Explain Condition of Uptown Thoroughfares, Honaker Says; Favors Purchase of Vacuum Sweeper

Recent complaints from merchants regarding the littered condition of Marion's uptown streets brought a response today from William Honaker, superintendent of streets, in which he presented two explanations of the situation.

These two explanations, as stated by him, are: First, the city lacks sufficient funds in the street cleaning fund; and second, there is lack of co-operation on the part of business men in the uptown district.

Work Made Difficult

Honaker declares that the street cleaning problem is made more difficult by litter being swept into the thoroughfares from stores and sidewalks. If this practice could be eliminated, he asserts, streets would be in a much more presentable condition despite lack of funds for cleaning operations.

The present supply of funds in the street cleaning appropriation enables his department to sweep the uptown thoroughfares only three times a week, Honaker says. He adds that the work should be done every night in order to maintain satisfactory conditions.

In the absence of sufficient money for a nightly clean-up, Honaker says, the only solution is to have merchants and citizens in general co-operate by keeping litter off the streets.

Opposed to Plumbing

Purchase of a street flusher to be used in giving the streets a washing at regular intervals is being advocated by a number of business men. This proposal does not meet with Honaker's approval. He says it is not practical because the cost would be prohibitive and also because the type of ditch basins on the uptown streets would result in continual trouble from clogged outlets.

Purchase of a vacuum sweeper is favored by the street superintendent as well as by Service Director O. A. Bene-

Hupmobile performance

THE widespread public belief that Hupmobile builds a stronger as well as a more finely balanced motor car, has never been more strikingly demonstrated than in the Hupmobile Century Sixes and Eights. Here are modern high compression engines whose power may be utilized to the full without wear or strain. At high speeds, for example, oil is forced at pressure to piston pins through drilled connecting rods. Lanchester dampers eliminate the last trace of engine vibration. Advanced oil, air and crankcase cleaners provide much longer life to the wearing parts of the motor. Throughout from chassis to the sturdy and beautiful coachwork, the Century models reveal the century's greatest advance in car design. You will own a Century Hupmobile as soon as you complete your first test of its remarkable riding and driving qualities.

26 body and equipment combinations, standard and custom on each line. Six of the Century, $1345 to $1625. Century Eight, $1825 to $2105. All prices f.o.b. Detroit. No war tax.

Daily Proverb—"Deep lies the heart's language."

John Philip Sousa says he believes "there is such a thing as artistic snobbery." Why so hesitant, John, in stating a well-known fact?

The president of the French chamber of commerce in Montreal declares that the "illegal operation of the Chicago drainage canal is not only making Montreal impossible as a terminal for transatlantic liners in the near future, but it also a source of bad feeling between Canada and the United States." But what do matters such as these amount to in the eyes of Chicago
so long as she can evade the expense of the construction and operation of an adequate sewage disposal plant?

Give Your Mind a Workout.

Are you allowing yourself to get into the habit of avoiding anything that necessitates hard thinking?

In your selection of reading matter, do you choose only that which entertains?

Do you cast aside books that can not be read without thought?

If you have followed, even for a short time,
your inclination to protect yourself against anything that required the use of brain power,
you must have noticed certain results.

One of these is that the more you pursue this course the more difficult it becomes to concentrate on definite study in any subject.

You like to excuse yourself by saying that your daily work tires your head and uses your brain enough to satisfy you.

This may be true in certain pursuits.

But the majority of work-a-day occupations are marked by routine.

The same kind of thought, day by day, is not brooding.

Routine becomes habit, and thought in a groove is not the right sort of brain exercise, so seek variety in brain work and study something each day.

Two men held up and robbed a Toronto bank of $25,000, making their getaway in a car bearing a Michigan license. A few more cases like that and the long-standing friendship between Uncle Sam and the Lady of the Snows is liable to become strained.

Major General John A. Lejeune charges that two so-called American organizations are urging marines to desert, and Representative Man, of Minnesota, holds that their course is a part of a concerted movement under way "to destroy the government by making it defenseless within and without." To a lot of people the mystery is why there are so many charges and so little action to deport those against whom the charges are made.

Cherry Pie 'nd Raisin' Ears.

What is more toothsome than the succulent corn-on-the-cob or a man's-sized sector of real old-fashioned, home-made cherry pie? When the cherry pie and corn-on-the-cob season makes its advent along about this time of the summer, many of the irksome things of life
are forgotten, and one is glad to be alive.

Cherry pie—crisp, brown and rich crust, just short enough to be flaky, yet not short enough to crumble. Top and bottom of the same thickness—and in between a heaping layer of luscious cherries, tart as to taste and as deeply crimson as maiden's blush, steaming hot and with the red, red juice simply oozing out all around. One piece of that kind of pie never is sufficient for a he-man—he simply must pass his plate a second time, and then if modesty didn't forbid, the chances are he would be back for a third helping.

And corn-on-the-cob! My, my, what de-liciousness! What savory morsels as they come from the boiling water and are garnished with a generous helping of butter, to which a dash of salt and pepper has been added. One, two, three ears! One wishes one might include just another of those tempting tidbits—but there will be another day, and more corn-on-the-cob. So much for anticipation.

Some folks cut the corn off the cob and serve it in a little golden heap by itself. But that's no way to eat sweet corn! That's a hifalutin' notion of these recent soft years into which the world has been plunged. Another of these notions requires that corn-on-the-cob
be served with a doohicke into each end of it,
so one's fingers may not get mussed up! Pooh!
The only way to eat corn-on-the-cob is to grasp one ear firmly with the left hand, massage it gently with butter and then play it precisely as one would play a mouth organ. A nibble of corn, then laying the ear down, and then another nibble, is merely tantalizing one's palate.

Proper appreciation of corn-on-the-cob calls for the eating of one complete ear at one sitting—that it, without any time out at all and until the last, and usually the jolliest kernel is severed from its anchorage. Then,
and then only, may one relax into sufficiently comfort and wipe one's mouth—and frequently one's ears!

Yes, sir, the cherry pie season, which is up on us, and the corn-on-the-cob season, which is just around the corner, are the best weeks
of the summer.

Hoover—and the Quaker Strain.

Quaker-born and Quaker-bred is Herbert Hoover. The circumstance arrests attention for there has been no American president with this background. Dolly Madison, however, at once the most vivacious woman
ever to become mistress of the White House,
was of North Carolina Quaker blood.

Will Irvin writes: "Take the typical Quaker mind and soul, super-energize it, endow it with the passion of creation, and you could not escape a combination resembling Hoover."

Despite all the Quakers have done to remain
quiet and unobtrusive and in the background,
romance and drama are writ large in the story of their lives in the United States. The quaintest thing in their history was the hatred in which the early Puritans held them, and the kindness which England's merriest monarchs showed toward these strait-laced folk.

Massachusetts barred them. If a Quaker entered the colony, one ear was cut off. If he returned,
the other was cut off. And on the third appearance, his tongue was bored with a hot iron. So ran the code, and the Puritans exceeded it. They hanged three men and one woman, whose sole offense was their Quaker faith.

Hand it to that royal roisterer, Charles II.
He sent a stern word to Massachusetts to let the Quakers alone, and the colony had to obey.
Probably Charles liked them for the same reason that the Puritans hated them—their simple goodness and genius for minding their own business made certain manifestations of the Puritan spirit seem odious!

In fundamental doctrines Quakers do not differ from other Christian bodies, but they have distinctive views and customs. Instead of churches, they have meeting houses. Instead of taking oath, they affirm. They bear testimony against war. They do not believe in a professional ministry. They think that women have the same right to preach that men have. They have disused the outward observance of baptism and communion. They address each other with the familiar thee and thou. They know the seven days of the week only as first day, second day and so on, refusing to recognize the pagan gods whose memories the accepted names of the days enshrine. They do not uncover, even in the presence of kings, and they keep their hats
on church.

Some of these original points of difference
are observed only by older people, or are now in abeyance. Those who know the Quakers will bear testimony to the breadth and serenity of their mental horizon, to their unparalleled ability to keep their temper on controversy, and to a certain ju-jitsu effectiveness which emerges from their basic tenet of non-resistance.

Ruth Elder has signed a contract to appear in a picture entitled "Glorifying the American Girl," of whom, the movie management holds, she is typical. It's no more than fair, however, to point out to the girls that they do not necessarily have to handicap themselves with
a husband or two to qualify for that classification.

To a trained observer the scales, the skin, the eyes and the temper tell everything about a baby.
They mean little to the mother. She is often in she has many a worry over the infant.

Whenever the mother suspects something is wrong,
but does not know just what it is, she should consult the doctor or go to a baby health station for advice. It is not well to delay. Many times the welfare and, perhaps, the life of the little one depends on the right care, applied early. Loss of appetite, particularly, is one of the symptoms which should not be overlooked.

To you not governed in your opinion of the child wholly by the appetite of the baby. There may be loss of weight from loss of appetite, with refusal of food. There may be loss of weight from indigestion due to the indulgence of an overstimulated appetite. A ravenous appetite may be due to abnormal conditions. In short, then, the apppetite is not a positive sign of health, or of the lack of health.

Failure of the baby to take his food may be due to one of several causes. Let us see what some of them are:

A sore throat or a sore mouth may be the cause.
It hurts to swallow, or it hurts to feed. Naturally, the infant declines to eat because of the pain when it is attempted. The delicate tissues may be injured by something the baby has put in its mouth or, if it has reached that age, there may be infection of the gums from teething.

necessarily have to handicap themselves with
a husband or two to qualify for that classification.

For example: The extra servant is not an expense when one considers that hereafter the wash will be done at home.

Rapidly decreasing residential values in the city make it expedient to purchase a house in the new development in the suburbs.

Growing repair bills on the old car and its present trade-in value virtually pay for the new car.

Membership in the golf club is more than met by the admirable opportunities for putting over business deals in the course of play. Besides the value of one's health is not to be discounted.

A trip to Europe is really cheaper than remaining in the United States, in view of the favorable rate of change.

A complete radio set may be practically financed out of the money that might otherwise have gone toward some other form of entertainment. All labor-saving devices pay for themselves in time.

Underlying the whole system is the fact that money spent is money placed in circulation,
thus building up industry, reducing unemployment, thereby discouraging bolshevism and making this an extremely happy country in which to live.

The law forbidding the printing of testimony
offered in divorce proceedings is held responsible for the decided increase in the number of divorce proceedings begun in England, but it may be that the fact that British newspapers are beginning to run more pictures of parties to litigations than formerly is not without its effect.

The world is full of people who do not gnash their teeth when they see themselves portrayed in print.

Getting That Coat of Tan.

Have you got your coat of tan?

Marion, submerged for almost a month under a record-breaking amount of rain and cloudy weather, has made a grand rush into the hot July sun.

Thousands of Marion men and women who went out under Old Sol to get a coat of tan accumulated a coat of sunburn instead.

And that is not quite so lovely. But the druggists don't mind it a bit. Various apotheche report an unusually heavy demand for anti-sunburn lotion.

One who burns easily should be cautious about venturing into the sun without preparation to ward off burns. Those who begin accumulating their tan in the early spring won't burn so easily—but the sun's rays, beneficial as they may be, also are a menace, if one isn't careful not to let them get in their destructive work.

Yes, sir, the cherry pie season, which is up

The Cicada and His Jazz.

BY GARRETT F. SERVICE.

Among man's contemporaries in earthly life
the seventeen-year locust may hold the palm for sphinx-like mysteriousness. One of the seventeen known broods of this strange creature is now singing and Eddie-scaping away its brief term of freedom in the trees
after so many years of dark, underground existence. The special haunt of this particular tribe is along the eastern side of the Alleghenies.
The discarded shells—pupae—inhabited by the insects before crawling from the ground may be seen left, fastened by spiny legs to the bark of tree-trunks. Thin, semi-transparent, split along the back, dried by sun, and whistling in the wind, these lifelike shells retain with startling exactness the form of the living insect which has escaped from their imprisonment.

The scientific name of these spectral insects is cicada. No one seems to know where there are seventeen "broods" of cicadas inhabiting
the United States, each brood having its own
year of emergence from its seventeen-year continuous sojourn underground, where during all that time its members blindly feed on the roots of trees and plants. Then, when their fated year comes round in its regular succession, the whole brood makes for the world of sunshine. Every insect climbing a tree-trunk dressed in its translucent shroud, fixes its horny claws in the bark, and waits for the confining garment to split in the driving air and set it free. As it emerges the folded wings that have grown in its prison—a promise of the angelic weeks to come—expand, become rigid and begin to reflect the sunbeams of invisibly nature.

The creature has reached its heaven, but also it is not the eternal paradise dreamed by man. Only a month, or at the most five or six weeks, of this idyllic existence is allotted;

then, their eggs being laid for the next generation to begin its long subterranean half-life-half-death, they depart into the bosom of invisibly nature.

It is a curious fact that one particular brood comes out of the ground each succeeding year.
Consequently, after the lapse of seventeen years
the same brood which has emerged this year will come out again as another generation,
the children of those that have been entertaining us with their jazz in the trees in the early summer of 1928.

Each brood has its favorite geographical range. That of next year, for instance, inhabits the prairie states, centering in Iowa.
Entomologists have numbered the brood's with Roman numerals. That of last year was Brood
I, this year we have Brood II, next year will emerge Brood III.

But there is another horde of these insects,
inhabiting the lower Mississippi states, known as the thirteen-year locusts, their cycle of e-appearance being thirteen years instead of seventeen. Everybody who has lived in the country for any length of time has most likely heard the shrill, piercing sound of the cicada's
"harp, shall I call it?" No doubt it is as sweet as Apollo's harp to the insects themselves, for in accordance with the fashion among insect tribes, their music is always a love song; so that the louder the fracas swells 'tween the trees, the higher, we may feel sure, burns the flame of rapture and the thicker fly the arrows
of the cicada. Cupid hidden among the green branches.

One comforting fact for farmers brought out by entomological science is that the cicada comes into its own with food to such a degree while it is dwelling underground, in expectation of its brief day of glory, that it accumulates a reserve of nourishment sufficient to supply
most of its wants while it lives in the open air. Copyright, 1928, by King Features System.

Equal Rights in Afghanistan.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

Up until a very short time ago the women in Afghanistan had less prestige than in almost any other place in the world. Of course, they never were permitted to be seen in public unless heavily veiled. Moreover, the woman had no rights of her own whatsoever.

Not only must she be content to live a life of absolute ignorance—all forms of education being closed to her—but she may not leave the country, even to visit a foreign nation.

Of course, her marriage was arranged for her by her father. And usually she had never set eyes upon her husband until the minute of her marriage ceremony.

If, as was sometimes the case, a wife was unwilling, or if, for any reason, she failed to please her husband, he had several methods of dealing with her. For instance, he might divorce her. In which instance all he had to do was to say three times before witnesses that his wife was divorced, and the deed would be done. But he had other ways.

He might strangle her, or he might cut off her nose. And, if her crime was very great—in his eyes—he might shut her up in an iron cage, where she would eventually die of thirst and exposure. These cages hung in conspicuous places along the main thoroughfares, and all who passed were witness to her disgrace.

But there have been many reforms in Afghanistan of late, and the burden of woman
has been considerably lightened.—Copyright,

AMELIA SLEEPS ON WAY FROM NEW YORK TO BOSTON WHERE THRONGS WAIT TO GREET HER

Steady Drone of Motor Brings Morpheus Swiftly to Girl

SENSE OF SECURITY

Vast Estates on Route Look Like Mere Doll Houses from Plane

Editor's Note: Miss Amelia Earhart, the transatlantic aviator, and Mrs. Marie O. G. O'Connell, special correspondent of International News Service, flew from New York to Boston at the time of Miss Earhart's homecoming. How "Lady Lindy" who was wide awake for twenty-four hours while crossing the mighty, rolling Atlantic, slept peacefully three thousand feet above Long Island Sound is vividly described by Mrs. O'Connell.

BY MARIE O. G. O'CONNELL

Boston, July 20—Amelia Earhart may not have slept in 24 hours on her epochal transatlantic flight, but she made up for it in some small measure on her flight from New York to Boston. When we took off from Curtiss field, Long Island, I would not believe it possible to sleep 3,000 feet up but after we were out an hour I found what the steady drone of the motor could accomplish.

Having reached Curtiss field at 8:30 a. m., all set for a flight to Boston with Miss Amelia Earhart, Lou Gordon and Wilmer Stultz, I was surprised at the calmness with which everyone waited in the intense heat of the early morning. Miss Earhart was very composed and displayed not the slightest sign of fatigue, although she had good reason to be thoroughly exhausted after what she had accomplished and the number of receptions she has been accorded in New York.

Planes Tuned Up

When Col. Palmer Putnam announced "All set," after numerous pictures had been "shot" by the cameramen, and the planes were all tuned up, it was with no little trembling that I climbed into the plane, while all the rest of the party seemed no more excited than if they were stepping into a Pullman car. Miss Earhart posed in the door of the plane for many pictures, then the Ford plane piloted by N. S. Browne, carrying Miss Earhart, Mr. Putnam, American backer of the Boston-Wales flight; Mrs. Putnam, two newspapermen, and a cameraman took

Another Sales Record for Frigidaire

and a word about what it means

The past three months have established a new sales record for Frigidaire. During that time more were sold and installed than in any similar period in the company's history.

Marion has helped to make that record.

This growing public demand for Frigidaire can mean but one thing, and that one thing is VALUE.

When anyone seriously considers electric refrigeration he finds these facts to be true—

He finds that all mechanical parts are completely enclosed yet quickly accessible and this means no immediate service when needed without the necessity of removing the mechanism from the home.

He finds that the compressor compartment is at the bottom, which places all food shelves at a convenient height and can be set flush upon the floor which eliminates stooping or cleaning beneath.

He is impressed with Frigidaire beauty. No other home, with nothing to catch dust or dirt, and no door covers that Frigidaire is economical of space. It can be built in, or the top can be used for shelf space.

He finds in every detail, the greater value of Frigidaire, a value due to the mechanical advantages that the company offers.

He finds that Frigidaire has certain mechanical advantages that are responsible for its success. It has a slow speed compressor of surplus power. This means less wear, long life and the extra capacity for quick freezing of ice and desserts in the lowest temperature. It has an efficient "V" belt drive and a fan that lowers operating cost. It has mounted individual self-closing freezing trays and a cabinet construction that insures ideal cold air circulation.

In considering the purchase of an electric refrigerator for your purpose, let me assure you that you expect less. Don't take my word for it. Come in and see for yourself.

Her Health Came Back Soon After She Got Konjela

Declares Her Entire System Was Built Up By This New Medicine.

MRS. B. SELJIN

"I know what Konjela will do. It gave me better health than I have had for a long time and my friends can verify this fact," said Mrs. B. Seljin, 200 Ford alley, Warren, Ohio.

"When I awoke in the morning my lower limbs ached me terribly. I never had the energy to do my work until noon and then I tired very easily. My appetite was poor and I really had to force myself to eat. At night I would be restless for hours before going to sleep. I was the victim of a rundown and disordered system before I got Konjela."

"Then this medicine completely ended every trace of my health troubles and built up my entire system. My sleep is sound and refreshing and the next morning I am full of energy. My housework is a pleasure now and I have a greater enjoyment in my daily activities. My appetite has increased until it seems to be hungry all the time. Konjela is the first medicine to give me new health."

Konjela is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains twenty-two juices extracted from several plants which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjela on the entire system brings healing relief in cases of suffering that had been going on for years. At the same time many weak and rundown persons have been restored to a new sense of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product we can say Konjela is the most highly recommended medicine that is known in this country.

Konjela is strongly recommended here in Marion at Stump & Sons Pharmacy, and is also being sold by all the best druggists in all towns throughout the surrounding country.
